

HAS IT ENDED THE STRUGGLE?

Fact That Davidson Has Signed Certificate of Stephenson's Vote On January 26, Is Announced.

PAPER STARTED TO WASHINGTON

Investigation Continues--Free Luncheon Bill Was Reported For Killing--Bancroft Explains His Part In Campaign.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Madison, Wis., Feb. 26.—The announcement that Governor Davidson has signed a certificate of the vote on January 26 in both the senate and assembly and that it has been signed with the great seal of the state and is on its way to Washington, the center of interest in the senatorial campaign turns towards the nation's capital.

Done Quietly
The certification of the journals of the two houses was done so quietly and quickly that it was not until the papers were on their way to the Senate of the United States did the anti-Stephenson men know that the coup had been sprung.

The Document
The document shows that Stephenson received a majority of the votes of both houses of the legislature and that in view of this fact it is held that he was elected even though he has failed in securing enough votes in the regular joint session since, Bancroft's explanation.

PROTESTANT LAITY HOLD CONFERENCE

Delegates From Denominations In America Totalling a Million Members Gather at Pittsburgh. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 26.—Delegates representing laymen's organizations of the Protestant churches throughout the United States and Canada, with a membership totaling over one million, began a conference in this city today to discuss plans for a closer cooperation in their work. The conference is regarded as the most important ever held by the Protestant church laity in America.

The organizations represented by their executive officers and other delegates include the Episcopal Brotherhood of St. Andrew, League of Universalist Laymen, Interdenominational Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip, Southern Presbyterian Brotherhood, Baptist Brotherhood, United Presbyterian Men's League, Congregational Brotherhood, Methodist Brotherhood, Men's Movement, Canadian Presbyterian Brotherhood, Presbyterian Brotherhood of America, and the Men's Movement in the Christian Church. One of the most important matters before the conference is a proposition to arrange for cooperation of the various men's organizations of the different denominations in the larger cities as well as nationally with a view of unity and cooperation both in church work and municipal improvement.

The proposed national and local cooperation will be entirely free from political issues, though it will be proposed to use the cooperation, strength and influence of the united organizations in a federation is approved for municipal and civic improvement in all large American cities in so far as such civic movement and social improvement movements are nonpartisan and without specific political purpose.

No efforts will be made to introduce denominational doctrines or introduce any line of action that will conflict with the prescribed rules and organic constitution of the various denominations. It is proposed that the combined strength of the total membership of men in the Protestant churches of America act in one accord, unitedly and simultaneously.

In the senatorial campaign list as receiving money from Stephenson, explained to the investigating committee that it was all spent in Stephenson's behalf in Richland county and that a hundred dollars more of his own money went as well in the same cause.

Even a Chaplain
Even a legislative chaplain got some of Stephenson's money, was found today when the name of Rev. F. H. Spilling, who prayed in the assembly this morning, came before the committee. He received $200 for "preaching" Stephenson, it developed in the hearing.

Still Shy
The vote on Senator this noon showed that Stephenson still lacked votes enough to elect at the joint session. He had 40 out of the 113 votes cast, eight short of election.

The bills to abolish freighting and free lunches in saloons were reported back to the assembly this morning for killing.

WHITE SOX GOING TO GOLDEN STATE

Comiskey's Big Squad Will Leave Chicago for San Francisco Tomorrow To Play Exhibition Games.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Feb. 26.—Tomorrow will find the White Sox on their way to California to get into shape for the '09 pennant race. The squad is one of the largest that Mr. Comiskey ever has taken on a practice trip. In addition to the players the party includes the club officials, a host of baseball correspondents and several invited guests.

The party will reach San Francisco the first of next week and will spend several days there in finishing up practice. Then the outfit will be divided into two squads, the first team, consisting of the club's best players, remaining at San Francisco for three days, while the second goes to Los Angeles for a series of exhibition games. Other dates will be filled in, and then will come the journey home by easy stages. From El Paso northward the two teams will engage in a series of more or less contests with the other major league teams trailing in Texas and Arkansas and with various minor league teams.

SPORTSMEN'S SHOW AT MADISON SQUARE

NEW BATTLESHIP NEAR COMPLETION

Work is Being Rushed on the Modern "All-Big-Gun" Sea-Fighter

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Camden, N. J., Feb. 26.—At the yards of the New York Shipbuilding company work is being rushed on the battleship Michigan, and it is expected that the vessel will be delivered to the government six months earlier than the contract requires. If this expectation is fulfilled the ship will be ready for her first trip early in June.

The Michigan will rank foremost among the great fighting machines flying the United States flag. She is America's first "all-big-gun" battleship and comes closer to the dreadnought class of warships in the English navy than any other fighting vessel in the American navy. Her battery will consist of eight 12-inch guns.

The hull of the Michigan is of steel throughout. Although a very heavy vessel, the contract calls for a sustained speed of 18 1/2 knots an hour for four consecutive hours. Besides the eight 12-inch guns, she will carry two submerged torpedo tubes, two 3-pounder anti-aircraft guns, eight 1-inch anti-aircraft guns, two 3-inch gun pieces, and four machine guns. The 12-inch guns will be mounted in pairs, in four turrets on the center line, two forward and two aft.

The hull is protected on the waterline by a complete belt of armor eight feet wide, having a thickness of eleven inches throughout the machine gun spaces and twelve inches at the magazine spaces. For a height of eight feet above the main belt there is the secondary armor, eight inches thick at the top to ten inches thick at the bottom. There will be a complete protective deck from stem to stern, which will be so arranged that one-half of the total supply of ammunition will be carried at each end of the ship.

The propelling engines of the Michigan will be of the vertical twin-cylinder, four-cylinder, triple expansion type, of a combined indicated horsepower of 16,500. Each engine will be one hundred feet high above the base line. The crew of the big battleship will number fifty-one officers and 750 men.

OVERLAND LIMITED WENT INTO DITCH

St. Paul Railroad Has Another Bad Accident in Iowa to Its Fast Train.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 26.—A Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul overland limited train going west went into a ditch at Van Horn, Iowa, at one o'clock this morning. C. H. Brown, one of the oldest engineers on the road, was killed and several persons slightly hurt. The train was running at a high rate of speed when the engine left the track and turned a somersault. The baggage and mail cars were piled on top of each other and when cars turned over on their sides. The accident is believed to have been due to a broken flange.

BLUEBERRIES IN THE SUMMER DAYS

THEN LIVE OFF THE PROPERTY OWNERS IN WINTER.

COMPLAINT MADE AS TO LAW

Will Audit Bills of Investigation—Work Done by Special Board Social Democrats Most Serious.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 26.—They pick blueberries in the summer and live off the big taxpayers in the winter. They get their heads together, elect themselves to town offices, hire their families to take snap jobs and draw on the public treasury until it's bankrupt. Conditions are bad now and they're getting worse right along. 12 you pass any bill that will allow those people to draw on us for more taxes you will be guilty of encouraging gangs of grafters and adventurers in the north.

This was the way John Walsh of Washburn county described conditions in wild counties of the north such as Washburn and Sawyer. His representative Frederick Agnew, of well-advised remedies for suffering humanity. Mr. Agnew was something like 70,000 acres of land in Washburn county, and he pays big taxes. His lawyer claimed that Mr. Agnew and some other large land-owners were forced through payment of heavy taxes to support hundreds and hundreds of town officers and their families who passed upon town orders as they sat at and with perfect impunity. It all that Mr. Walsh said is true, and the things he did say were corroborated by E. P. Arpin, who appeared for the Sawyer County Taxpayers' association, then northern Wisconsin and its grafters offer a fertile field for Lincoln Stephens or F. J. McGovern. According to Mr. Walsh, the grafters of the north make the old-time grafters of Milwaukee and Chicago look like nursing babes.

The expense of grafting in the northern woods came out when bills 155 and 156a by Assemblyman Hammill came up for consideration before Assemblyman M. J. Cleary and his committee. The bill makes certain changes in methods of assessment and increases the tax for highway purposes. Mr. Walsh devoted his attention particularly to the highway feature. He said that this fund was the net fund of upstate grafters; that they took particular delight in dipping into it. He cited this case: "Up in Frog Creek there was money on hand for highway purposes. The town board decided therefore to make a survey through a Jacksonport district peopled by no human beings. They made a survey of four miles and did not even do so much as cut down a stump or make any material progress toward building the useless road. But the survey cost the town $330 and the money went to the families of the men who ordered the survey. That's just one instance. It's a fact, gentlemen, that a lot of the homesteaders up there are fakes. They have no intention of improving their places. They live on the taxes paid by the big lumber corporations. They pick blueberries in summer and in the winter they hang around in the woods and live on the taxes paid by the lumber companies."

Mr. Arpin made a statement before the committee and both men intimated that they would have something to say before the state took any steps toward appropriating large sums to induce more settlers into the north.

Will Audit Bills.
Secretary of State James A. Frear notified Senator Lehr last evening that he would audit the vouchers of the investigating committee this morning. Mr. Frear said he thought that Senator Lehr should be notified that there should be no misunderstanding regarding the matter. "There are a number of small warrants here awaiting signature," said Secretary of State Frear. "I am going to sign them this morning. I think the aggregate of amounts represented in the vouchers presented by the investigating committee is not over $600."

Senator Lehr's application for an injunction in the circuit court of Dane county is not expected to come up for hearing until the latter part of next week. Attorney General Gilbert was notified last night by the state treasurer that Mr. Lehr had made an application in the circuit court for an injunction and the secretary of the state and the state treasurer in the proceedings.

JANESVILLE MAN CARRIES PAPERS

WILLIAM G. WHEELER HAS STEPHENSON'S CERTIFICATE OF ELECTION.

SIGNED BY THE GOVERNOR

Left for Washington Early This Morning to Present Them to Vice-President Fairbanks Tomorrow.

William G. Wheeler, United States District attorney for the western half of Wisconsin, left this morning for Washington, with documents which may end the present dispute over who will be the next Wisconsin senator in his pocket.

It is the final coup of the whole factional fight that has existed at Madison since the legislature convened and the radical anti-Stephenson members secured enough votes to block the senator's election.

Signed by Governor Davidson, with the great seal of the state affixed by Secretary of State Frear over his signature, Mr. Wheeler has the certificate that shows the Senator Stephenson received a majority of the votes of both houses of the senate and assembly at the first ballot for United States senator on January 26.

It was expected that Senator Stephenson would take certified copies of the proceedings to Washington in place of credentials. There has always been more or less argument and difference of opinion as to whether this would be sufficient to seat him. But the advisors of the senator did not rest there.

In addition to the certified copies of the assembly and senate journals, certified to by the speaker and the clerk of the senate, they carry with them the certification of Gov. Davidson that the officials are the clerks of the houses they represent.

Further, Secretary of State Frear certified that Gov. Davidson was governor of Wisconsin, and attached to the copies the great seal of the state of Wisconsin.

This certification was obtained quietly last evening. Few persons know of what was done. William G. Wheeler of Janesville, met Secretary Frear in his office and secured his certification with the seal.

With this the senator, who is on his way to Washington, where the certified copies will be given to the senator for presentation to the United States senate when he claims his seat after March 4.

It is not known just what procedure will be taken but it is understood that when the senator presents this documentary evidence of his election to the senate it will be turned over to the committee on election when he will be seated.

LOCAL PEOPLE IN LIST OF LOSERS

Estimated That From 300 to 500 Policies in Defunct Waterloo Insurance Co. Were Held Here.

TOOK LIFE AT EMPIRE HOTEL

JAMES SULLY WROTE ADIEUS
AND UNSCREWED THE GAS
PICTURE.

THE STORY IS A TRAGIC ONE

Alleged That Two Daughters Were Kidnaped and Taken to Denver.
Be Buried with Him.

James H. Sully, a well-known, well-groomed traveling salesman of pleasant address who came here from Kenosha a week ago today and who had previously toured the principal cities of Illinois, selling for 25 cents each tiny bottles of headache inhaler, labeled "Moosehead India Root," and containing segments of grape-vine or some other similar wood saturated with oil of mustard, retired to his room in the northwest corner of the Empire hotel at an early hour last evening; arranged his few effects; wrote a few lines to the world he was about to forsake; unscrewed the gas fixture from the pipe; took off his coat and vest; and lay down upon the bed to await a peaceful conclusion of all his troubles.

About three o'clock this morning Mrs. W. C. English, wife of the landlord of the hotel, awakened her husband and called his attention to the strong odor of illuminating gas which had pervaded their apartment in another quarter of the establishment. Mr. English and one of his employees made a tour of the corridors and located the source of the leak. The door was locked and had to be forced, and when entrance was gained the donor fumes almost overwhelmed them. After a window had been thrown up and a wafting of paper stuffed into the open place they dragged the limp body of Sully into the hallway and sent for Chief of Police Ambloy.

Upon his arrival at 3:10, the latter first sent for District Attorney J. L. Fisher and a physician, and then plugged the gas-pipe with a bar of soap. The man's body was still warm but Dr. R. W. Edden, who arrived on the scene a few minutes later, found that the heart had ceased to beat and was of the opinion that the suicide had been dead for at least a half hour. Subsequently the remains were removed to Nelson's undertaking rooms.

Was Without Funds.

The suicide was a good-looking man about forty years of age, with black hair and mustache, weighing about 160 pounds, and perhaps five feet, seven inches tall. He wore a gold initial ring and carried a handsome gold watch and fob. Clothes, overcoat, linen, and neckwear all, belated, a person of good taste and neat habits. He had made himself agreeable about the hotel and was well liked by all with whom he came in contact. His financial resources, however, had evidently dwindled to the vanishing point as he had not paid his hotel bill and not a single cent of money was to be found among his effects.

Photo and Lock of Body, were found on the bed, well message and the following written in a bold hand, with frequent flourishes, on a large piece of the pasteboard backing used for mailing books; a photograph of a pleasant-looking young woman in white shirtwaist and walking skirt, posed in a pensive mood with chin resting in the hands and elbows on a table; and an envelope containing many strands of reddish brown hair tied with a blue ribbon. Various letters and documents had been left upon the counterpane.

His Daughters Kidnaped

The farewell message shows that there was some happening in the writer's life as well as much suffering and bitterness. Financial embarrassment must have been the weight which finally swung the balance. Because they constitute an outfit which is not warranted by anything which appears in the several letters, two words will have to be omitted in the reproduction. The address given in the postscript is evidently that of the young woman, though it is written as if it were his own. His own accounting and explanation of the deed is as follows:

"I was born in Cambridge, England. Last year I traveled in N. Y. hospital through the trenches of Joseph Horsey of New York City. Had my two children Mabel and Rella stolen by my sister-in-law, Mrs. Della Penwick a — for this same Joseph Horsey and taken to Denver, Colorado, where to the best of my knowledge they now are detained unlawfully with the assistance of Governor MacDonald and Mrs. J. H. P. Reynolds of Denver, although the state of Massachusetts with the help of Governor Gillet demanded her (Mrs. Penwick's) surrender twice.

"I cannot stand this trouble longer, therefore any good bye to you all. Kindly bury with my best friend's photograph, Miss Marie Hanson, the girl I dearly love. And may the Good God in Heaven and His only Son our Saviour Jesus Christ have mercy on my soul.

"J. H. SULLY.
"P. S. Kindly give my sweetheart Marie my watch and fob and oblige.

Story of Abduction

Included among his effects is a carbon copy of a typewritten letter mailed by Sully at the Columbus hotel, Pittsburgh, Pa., on June 1st, 1927, and addressed to the Denver (Colo.) Times, which is in part as follows:

"Dear Sirs:
"I am in receipt of a clipping from a Boston, Mass., newspaper stating that Mrs. Della Penwick, a fugitive from justice from the state of Massachusetts and the Dominion of Canada and now residing in Denver, Colorado, has been granted adoption papers over my two children, Mabel Winifred Sully and Rella Victoria Sully, both British born subjects of John Harrison Sully and Annie Elliott Sully, whom she kidnapped from Malden, Mass., and Montreal, Canada, P. Q., respectively. If this is true I beg to state that she could only have secured the same by false statements and that I, John Harrison Sully, their only living parent and legal guardian, refuse to acknowledge the right of any court of justice in the United States or elsewhere to grant any person the adoption of my children without first giving me a hearing.

When Massachusetts made application to the Governor of Colorado for the extradition of Mrs. Della Penwick for a felony committed in Massachusetts for stealing my daughter Rella Victoria Sully and the same came up before Gov. Jesse MacDonnell of Colorado for a hearing, I claim that if Gov. MacDonnell did refuse to extradite Mrs. Della Penwick, he had no legal power to make her my children's legal guardian and much more so to deny the right of my children's court of Colorado or anywhere else to grant to a felon, the robber of my children, adoption papers over them.

"I am not dead or dying and will fight this case to the bitter end. It is only a matter of time when I will have sufficient money to get justice. That is the bitter part of it. I think because I have not sufficient money on hand and must allow a woman to have custody of my children whom she stole; a woman who served six months in the Montreal, Canada, common jail for stealing a gold watch; a woman who stole her niece's pocketbook out of Mrs. Geo. Bishop's home in Malden, Mass.; a woman who did not have enough money to go to Montreal, Canada, from Boston, Mass., to the funeral of her sister and my wife, Annie Elliott Sully, in March, 1925; a woman who in May, 1926, stole about $500 from a Mrs. Kate Beauregard of Boston, Mass., and shipped to Montreal, Canada, to attend the funeral of her sister's baby."

or about May 27th, 1927, before she kidnapped my daughter Mabel, she stole a gold necklace from her own sister, Mrs. Wm. Ware, 90 Mansfield street, Montreal, Canada, and shipped to New York City. From there she went in hiding with my daughter Mabel over in New Jersey. From there she took my daughter Mabel to Denver, Col., and returned to Malden, Mass., March 14, 1928, and kidnapped my daughter Rella and returned to Denver with her.

"And this is the woman that the Colorado courts refused to surrender to Massachusetts."

"Respectfully Yours
"JAMES HARRISON SULLY.
"627 11 Broadway.
"Everett, Mass."

Another manuscript which appears to be a sort of diary, tells how Sully went to Denver to try to recover custody of his children and charges that accomplices of Mrs. Penwick, believing that he intended to abduct them, administered knock-out drops to himself and a newspaper reporter following a casual introduction to them in a hotel barroom.

Letter from Sweetheart.

One of the envelopes left on the table contained the third installment of a magazine article by Lincoln Steffens on "Don D. Lindsay: the Just Judge." There was also a receipted bill for $8 from the Stein photograph gallery in Milwaukee, dated Feb. 6. The photograph is accounted for in the following letter sent to Kenosha from St. Paul, Minn., on Feb. 15, by Miss Marie Hanson:

"My dear Jack:
"What's the matter I don't hear from you any more; are you sick? I sent you a picture Friday. Did you get it yet. We have had another snow storm here, but it is nice now again. The trains have been late here on account of the snow storm."

"I wish you would write soon I am so lonesome when I don't hear from you. Write and tell me what is the matter."

"I just received your two letters and photo now the mail carrier didn't get here to about three o'clock today. We had so many valentines. Your letter dated the 12th, just got now, I was getting so worried thinking you had forgotten me. Also received the 500 (probably 5.00 is meant) dollars and valentine. And I think you very much for your kindness to me. I might go down to see you some time this week but I will not stay long. I may stay a few days. I had a letter from her. Then I must try and get work. They are having all kinds of car sales here now. I haven't been down yet."

"That photo of you is fine. It looks almost as if it was real. I hope you will like mine."

"Well, sweet heart, I haven't any more to write about, so I will close with love to you. I am sure you will like it."

"Yours only
"MARIE
"Good-bye sweet heart"

Chief Ambloy telephoned to the police department at St. Paul this morning making that Miss Marie Hanson be located and instructions forwarded for the disposition of the remains. Later in the day the Chief got into communication direct with Miss Marie Hanson. The young woman went when she heard the news. Mr. Sully, she said, had not been writing to her as often as had been his custom and she had feared that something was amiss with him, though she had no pretension of his intent to take his life. She said that she was unable, financially, to do anything at this time toward paying his funeral expenses and that the $5 he had sent her was already expended. When told of his request that the watch and fob be sent to her, she said that if the city had to bury him it would be only right to sell this jewelry to help defray expenses. At some time in the future, perhaps, she would be able to make up any deficit which might remain.

Undertaker Nelson settled the hotel bill of $7 this morning and took over all of the personal effects. The body will be placed in the vault until spring, so that if, in the meantime, any relatives wish to take charge of the remains they will have an opportunity of doing so.

CLUB'S ENJOYABLE
SESSION AT AFTON

Summer Club of Household Economics Were Guests of Afton Members Yesterday.

Yesterday in Brinkman hall, Afton, the members of the Summer Club of Household Economics held their first meeting at which routine business was disposed of, including the election of officers for the coming year. While the greater part of the time was devoted to business, the subjects brought up were interesting and the session was enlivened by recitations and songs, and a dance by little Miss McGraw, of Chicago. The gathering was as pleasant and enjoyable as any of the members have had. Their next yearly meeting will be held at Afton, the invitation of the members from that place having been accepted by the club. Below is a detailed report of what was done at the session:

By invitation of the members from Afton, the actual meeting was held there in Brinkman hall, many Janesville ladies leaving on the 9:10 C. & N. W. train. The morning session was called to order by the vice president, Mrs. Kimberley, owing to the absence of Mrs. Holmes, who is in Phoenix, Arizona. The long roll call brought many responses, all taken from the Chicago Daily News of "Housewife Suggestions," causing much merriment. Further work was first dealt with, consisting of reports from officers, etc. A recess was then taken to greet the ladies who had come from other cities. The long table was filled, together with smaller ones, the attendance being eighty. The Afton ladies were assisted in serving by three ladies from Janesville. Nothing but praise can be said of these loyal members from Afton, who furnished ball, ment and potatoes for the crowd; also great credit is due our refreshment committee, for the excellent work of arranging the rest of the session. The afternoon session was called to order directly after dinner. Little four-year-old Dorothy McGraw, from Chicago, recited a very pretty and later during the session, business was again resumed and a lively time and much work was accomplished until nearly 4:00 p. m. A pleasant communication was read by Recording Secretary Pearl Holzapfel, from Mrs. Holmes, asking the club to continue along the same lines of last summer in the good work of helping Chicago waifs. The chair was in favor of giving aid to our own deserving poor. Much discussion followed with nothing definite resulting. The club is to be highly commended for the good work accomplished last summer, but it means money to do this.

A motion was almost unanimously carried to establish a separate fund for philanthropic work and a yearly every member arose to their feet when asked to pledge 25 cents toward said fund. Mrs. Janet B. Day was appointed chairman of a committee to have charge of the same.

Mrs. Kimberley, chairman of program committee, submitted same for the coming summer's work which was accepted. Mrs. Lottie Edden, chairman of the nomination committee, announced the names of ladies chosen as officers for the coming year. The club appointed as officers Mrs. Jennie Dwyer, "Becky Brown and Carrie Glenn, Mrs. Fisher, honorable president, was called upon to preside. The club's officers resulted in unanimous approval.

President—Mrs. E. O. Kimberley.
Vice-President—Mrs. W. B. David.
Rec. Secretary—Mrs. David Conger.
Cor. Secretary—Mrs. E. L. Loomis.
Treasurer—Mrs. Geo. O. Hoffman.
Auditor—Miss Nellie Gardner, O'fordville.

Miss Della Nott gave a vocal solo, beautifully "responding to an encore. Mrs. Thos. Wallis and Mrs. Hiram Murdock favored the company with a piano duet, which was much enjoyed by all. Mrs. Day gave a fine reading and an equally pleasing selection for an encore.

The matter of enlarging the club by taking in those on the waiting list, was urged by the newly elected president, and on motion, was unanimously carried. The club now numbers 213 and the membership is unlimited.

On Saturday, March 6, a meeting will be called by a committee from the board of the first district federation for the purpose of organizing a club similar to our own.

Mrs. Margaretta Brown, extended an invitation from Hanover members, to hold the next annual meeting, February, 1930, at that place. With a ringing vote of thanks to the Afton ladies, the company departed for their several homes.

Undermuslins At a Saving

If this notice had no word about special economy, it would still be good news to women who love dainty muslin underwear, for it tells of the prettiest petticoats, corset covers, night gowns, chemise and drawers, that have been designed this year.

But it has a strong price magnet, too, that forbids wise women to make their own undermuslins, for the materials and trimmings alone would cost more than these garments, and we are as careful about the cut and sewing as you could wish. USUAL CROP OF Cream Separator Snares and Tares

If actual merit alone prevailed the DE LAVAL cream separator would be the only one made, sold or used.

But the dairy farmer with his dollars is an alluring proposition to those who "need the money," so that every season brings with it a new crop of separator fakes and fables, with some of the old conjurers over again and always a few fresh ones.

Last year the new and improved line of DE LAVAL "machines" literally swept the field. This year everybody has a "new" machine, which is the one thing they universally have upon their talk and advertising, that it is mostly "bosh" and nonsense. There is mighty little new to them. No more DE LAVALs, some have exploded so that there is nothing else "new" that they can lay hold of this year.

There's the usual crop of fakers appropriating the facts of DE LAVAL separator use and the endorsements DE LAVAL separators have received, and quoting them as though they applied to their own inferior imitation of the standard cream separator.

There's the concern which makes an inferior disc separator and speaks of the "disc" separator being "the machine which has won out universally in Europe, the home of the disc separator." True, but it was the DE LAVAL that has done the winning out in Europe, as it has in America.

There's the political separator concern, with the new "year" or "cents" trade mark, whose claims it is to be hoped nobody ever believes, and which manifestly practices the cream man's theory that the great American public ever likes to be fooled.

There's the only concern which has stuck to the abandoned DE LAVAL "hollow bowl" of 30 years, but will this year desperately join the procession of 10 years back DE LAVAL imitations with a "daisy bucket bowl" machine.

There's the "Trust", striving to complete its monopoly of dealer and farmer, harvesting much costly separator experience, largely at the expense of buyers-for-fool, though trying to build a cream separator like the ordinarily made farm machinery.

There's the "multi order" outfit, with their cheaply made machines, bought here and there, not made by themselves or sold under the real manufacturer's name, all claiming the earth, and many of the things that should be below it.

Put the merry lot chances and dwindle every year. They gradually drop out and leave their unfortunate patrons helpless with trashy machines. More will fade away this year. The dairy farmer, like the creameryman, is coming to know something of separators. He doesn't swallow mere "claims" so easily. 98 per cent of the world's creamerymen use DE LAVAL machines. The percentage of farm users content with nothing else is always increasing.

There isn't a single reason why every man who buys a cream separator this year shouldn't buy a DE LAVAL. There are many reasons why he should. The best costs no more than the various grades of inferior imitating machines.

A DE LAVAL catalog may be had for the asking. A DE LAVAL machine may be tried for the asking. Call and let us tell you more about this distinctive machine.

BEVERIDGE LEADS PARTY IN INDIANA

Proclaimed Chief of the Indiana Republicans.

ADDRESSES PARTY SCRIBES

Says Politician Who Creates a Faction is a Traitor—Says He Wants the State to Have Real Primary Law—For Tariff Revision.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 26.—At a banquet given by the State Republican Editorial association last night Senator Beveridge was proclaimed the party's leader in Indiana. Many prominent Republicans, including members of the legislature were present.

Harry Strohm of Kentland, president of the association, was the toastmaster, and when he said that the mantle of the party leadership in Indiana had fallen upon the shoulders of Senator Beveridge there was a storm of applause. Mr. Strohm introduced Senator Beveridge, who declared himself against bossism and cliques. He would do all in his power to see that any young Republican in Indiana could enter politics without a "pull." He favored direct primary elections for all public offices from constable to United States senator.

Senator Beveridge's Speech.
"Parties belong to the people; not the people to parties," said Mr. Beveridge. "A man should belong to a party only because he believes that its deeds, purposes and tendencies are best for the nation. So we see that broadest patriotism is without partisanship. Where a party degenerates into a mere organization, trying to keep voters together, not for the welfare of the nation, but for mere partisan success and the personal advancement of particular men, it becomes unworthy of the support or respect of the thinking citizen."

"These general principles must determine the course and conduct of the Republican party, both as to its organization and its policies."

People Want Best Man.

"More and more the citizen is coming to care about the fitness of the man, and less and less about what party label he wears—and in this the citizen is right in times like these. Public office exists to transact the business of the people; and the people want the best man they can find to transact the business. Candidates are now as important as platforms. No party can hold its voters in any possible way except by the appeal of vital issues or by the excellence of candidates. The whip of an organization can no longer drive citizens into line."

The speaker said that the man who tries to create a faction within a party is a traitor to the party, and that a faction within a party means death to the party. He continued:

"One instrument for organizing factions and building machines is the distribution of patronage for those purposes instead of for the purpose of the public service. That part of the spoils system which still remains must, in its turn and in the ripeness of time, also give way to a simpler and juster method which will better serve the people. Appointment to all offices will be made from the viewpoint of public service. No machine will be built or tolerated. A public man's first duty is to the people, and when he uses patronage to pay personal political obligations by appointing unfit men, he betrays his trust."

Promises Tariff Revision.

"What, now, of the things we stand for? First of all, we stand for tariff revision. That will be accomplished within the next four months. It will be a better working tariff than ever we have had. It will not satisfy everyone, for no human work ever has accomplished that."

Mr. Beveridge said that the opposition will attack that tariff in the next campaign, but it will not be sincere, because the opposition itself will help to make that tariff.

"We mean to have tariff peace with all the world, and we offer our minimum tariff to secure that peace; we mean to have tariff peace with all the world, and we have our maximum tariff in reserve to compel that peace."

"Next, we propose to modify the power of the federal courts in issuing injunctions so that no citizen beneath the flag can feel that courts have been oppressive, and yet that the property of no citizen shall be in danger."

Must Change Sherman Law.

"Very soon the Sherman law must be recast. In its present form it no longer fits conditions. Purely economic laws like the Sherman law must change as economic conditions change. That law is nearly a quarter of a century old, in years and more than a century old in spirit."

Senator Beveridge said he favored a primary law for the state by which the people at the ballot box will nominate every officer from constable to congressman and senator, and also nominate the party's state committee and state chairman.

Issues Proclamation to Children.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 26.—Unique among proclamations is that issued by Gov. Augustus E. Wilson to the children of Kentucky to commemorate arbor day. He dwells at length upon the deforestation idea and pleads with the youngsters to, after the advice of Sir Walter Scott, "stick in a tree here and there; it will be growing when you are sleeping." Friday, April 2, was fixed by the proclamation as the day.

The All-Day Sentinel

Wisconsin's Greatest Newspaper

Beginning next Monday, March 1, The Milwaukee Sentinel becomes an all-day newspaper, supplementing its morning issues with editions throughout the afternoon. It will print nine regular editions every twenty-four hours and as many extra editions as the news will warrant. Its plant will be operated twenty-four hours every week day and The Sentinel will be prepared to handle news at any minute, day or night. Every edition will be a complete newspaper containing all the news of the world up to the time of going to press. Readers in the state will get a newspaper as complete and interesting as subscribers in Milwaukee. No paper will contain old and stale news.

STATE NEWS

Hundreds of correspondents in every city, village and town in Wisconsin will gather news day and night, and the state page will be the best ever printed by a Wisconsin newspaper. Editions for state subscribers will be so timed to insure a perfect delivery. Never before have readers outside of Milwaukee been given as good a newspaper as those in the city, but by operating its plant day and night The Sentinel will provide this excellent service. Madison news will be unexcelled. A competent corps of special staff correspondents will provide the Wisconsin public with accurate and detailed reports of the legislative proceedings.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

The All-Day Sentinel will have the benefit of two of the greatest news gathering associations in the world—the Associated Press and the United Press. The former will serve the morning editions and the latter the afternoon issues. In addition to these two unexcelled services, The Sentinel will maintain special correspondents in New York, Washington, Chicago and many other cities in the country. All are trained newspaper men and will be at the disposal of this paper all hours of the day and night. An unsurpassed cable service has been established in all the news centers of the continent.

MILWAUKEE NEWS

The Sentinel has always employed the largest city news staff in Milwaukee, but under the new plans of publication it has become necessary to double its force of city editors and reporters. Thus a score of alert writers will always be on duty, and the best city news service ever given by any newspaper is guaranteed. Every phase of Milwaukee news will be accurately and thoroughly reported. It will be told in a crisp, snappy style, but "yellow journalism" always will be avoided. Special attention will be given to marine and labor news, and The Sentinel's fraternal department will keep its readers informed of all the proceedings of the various organizations.

SPORTING NEWS

If you aim to keep posted on sporting events you can't afford to be without The Sentinel. Its sporting pages will be up to date. Its sporting news will be gathered and written by experts. No other paper will print as reliable baseball news. No other paper will have so many box scores. State league games will be as carefully reported as those of the major organizations. Boxing, bowling, racing, aquatics—in fact, every branch of sporting news will be carefully covered. There will be many special departments, such as skat, chess, automobilism, etc. The enthusiastic amateur will be fully recognized. As in the past, the sporting illustrations and cartoons will lead.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

Special plans have been perfected to give Wisconsin readers the strongest market page ever printed in Milwaukee. The stock and bond tables will be the most reliable sent out of New York. The dairy markets will be accurate and reliable and embrace all the leading points in Wisconsin and the country. In the market columns will be found interesting gossip of go-curities in which readers are most interested, and every effort will be made to compile a page that will meet every demand.

WOMAN'S NEWS

This will be one of the strongest features of The All-Day Sentinel. It will be the aim to cover every branch of news that will interest feminine readers. The social and club columns will contain full and reliable reports of the many organizations. Special writers will contribute daily articles on fashions, household and other topics in which women are interested, many of which will be fully illustrated by leading artists. In addition there will be short and serial stories and other features.

FEATURES

Readers of newspapers today desire to be instructed and entertained as well as informed of the news. No up to date newspaper is without its special features, and The Sentinel has arranged to supply its readers with the work of a score of the best known newspaper writers. The special articles of these contributors will be of varied styles, ranging from the serious to the humorous, and there will be enough of them in each issue to gratify the tastes of all readers. All feature matter has been carefully chosen, and in the selection the youth as well as the adult have been kept in mind.

ILLUSTRATIONS

Everybody is interested in pictures, and with this fact in mind the art department has not been neglected. Harry Osborn will continue to supply his daily cartoons and Cad Brand's famous sporting pictures will appear oftener than in the past. Robert Edgren, the famous New York artist and sporting writer, will be a contributor, while there will also be comics by the best known pictorial laugh makers in the east. The news of each day will be profusely illustrated when the occasion warrants. For this purpose a staff of photographers will be maintained, and Sentinel readers will be assured superior service.

You cannot afford to be without a newspaper conducted on this plan!

WATCH FOR IT!

LOCAL CONDITIONS

Local conditions in Beloit, where the saloons have forgotten that there is such a thing as the law, has brought about a temperance crusade that may wipe out every liquor retailing place in the city.

The conditions in Janesville are not as bad as they have been in Beloit, but in some localities they are bad enough.

The saloon proprietors refuse to recognize that he is a lawbreaker when he violates the city ordinance relative to closing hours, particularly on Sunday.

There are retail liquor men who abide by the law, who close promptly at eleven, who remain closed on Sunday; but there are others who remain open. It is to these latter law-breakers and law-defiers that the real trouble with saloons is caused.

If the retail liquor dealers, of Wisconsin, want to avoid a test vote on the question of license or no license they must revolutionize their own methods and purge themselves of the men who refuse to recognize the law—not only the saloon men, but the brewers as well.

IT SEEMS FUNNY

This investigation of the campaign expenses of Isaac Stephenson in his campaign for United States Senator has reached the funny stage at the present time.

The Milwaukee Sentinel takes issue on the question in the following pointed language:

"Wallace Ingalls, a member of the senatorial investigation committee, is right when he insists that the committee should proceed with the investigation of specific charges of corruption and that no member of the committee knows of any such charges, then the committee ought to quit without further delay.

"But what becomes of the famous Blaine charges? Senator Morris says they are not specific. Pray, what does he call specific? At least nine definite and distinct charges were made by Blaine that Mr. Stephenson 'corruptly and unlawfully' and in violation of certain state statutes performed certain acts. Senator La Follette, whose word Senator Morris never questions, says that Senator Stephenson has been 'impeached by formal charges of corruption.' He calls the Blaine charges 'sixteen separate and distinct allegations,' 'formal charges of violating the laws of the state.'

"Senator Morris repudiates his political godfather, declares he knows of no charges but by questioning the committee might get at corruption if there is any."

"The report of Assemblyman Ingalls was to the point. He said, in reply to the charge that he was hindering the investigation, 'I don't know what the public thinks of this investigation. I think that the public certainly wants an investigation of specific charges of corruption if there are any, but I am not prepared to believe that the public expects this committee to spend six months on a fishing expedition.'

"Ingalls is right. If any man on earth has any charge of corruption against Senator Stephenson now is his chance to bring his charge and proof before the committee. The committee wants him to do it. The public wants him to do it. If the man who stirred up this mess have the goods on Senator Stephenson now is the time to produce them."

It is surprising to many people throughout the state how many men wanted to see Stephenson win his nomination in that they gave their time to promote his cause.

It promises to be an interesting war in the Second and Fourth wards on primary day when it comes to deciding who will be the democratic candidate for alderman.

Illinois politicians have hoped that Hopkins will win out at last and even make a long range announcement that his election will come March 15.

King Alfonso will have to go out and sit up with a sick lodge brother if he wants to do any high flying when his wife says "No."

Roast turkey in part of a menu at a New York banquet that is to be held by a lot of civilized cannibals.

Taft will have to keep pretty busy if he lives up to the reputation that Roosevelt has given him.

When Roosevelt dines off elephant trunk in Africa he can laugh at that "possum dinner given to Taft."

Mr. Taft has filled his cabinet at last and the next thing is to inaugurate him.

It ought to be a great summer in Kansas for a man with a soda fountain.

So Stephenson's credentials are on their way to Washington after all?

Gary, Indiana, continues to be an infant prodigy.

THE SOUL OF A CORPORATION.

The trial of Patrick Calhoun on the charge of bribing San Francisco's supervisors in behalf of the street railway company of that city is a notable case.

Bravo Lawyer Henny has put Stuart Schmitt and other go-betweens in peril of their liberty.

Now he is after the "higher-ups."

One of these principals is Calhoun, and the spectacle of a railway president in the prisoner's dock is a unique one.

But Calhoun was only a figurehead—a fancy figurehead. The railway company is owned in the end. Calhoun is a salaried man. The salary is a big one, enabling Calhoun and his family to hobnob with high society.

It is charged that from first to last Calhoun paid as much as $200,000 to the supervisors for special privileges granted his company.

But—

Where are the directors of the company? It is not likely their hired man would pay out that large sum for their benefit without their knowledge or consent. It may be Henny will get some more of the "higher-ups."

So far as Calhoun is concerned, he was probably between the upper and the lower millstones.

As manager he must earn dividends on a lot of highly watered stock. That meant he must give the people the least possible service they would accept without a public riot, grind the employees and buy immunities and concessions from the public officials.

Well—

Has it not been the accepted saying among high financiers that a corporation has no soul?

Proceeding upon this theory, that a corporation is an impersonal thing, without conscience or ideal, many of the public service corporations have not hesitated to buy, beg, steal or force whatever they could from the public.

BUT A CORPORATION HAS A SOUL.

It is a composite soul, made up of the individual souls of the men who conduct its enterprises. If these men have conscience, vision, decency, then the soul of the corporation is an honest soul; otherwise not.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM VS. NORMAL SCHOOL

Basketball Players Meet Normal School Team at Whitewater Tonight—Fast Game Expected.

Tonight the high school basketball team and their supporters will go to Whitewater, where the boys will contest with the five of the State Normal school, in their gymnasium.

The normal school team are fast, classy players and the high school expect they will have a hard rub to defeat them.

The Janesville team have been practicing hard and faithfully and have shown considerable improvement over their former exhibitions.

Their team work has shown a wonderful change for the better and is more skillfully executed than before.

Frank Robertson, Verno Morrill, Rono Koch, Earl Tippet and Emmet Murphy will make up the squad which will play tonight.

After this game there are two more games on the schedule of the team, one with Monroe, and one, which is an open date on yet. They leave this city at seven o'clock and return shortly after nine.

Why Building Stones Decay.

The causes of decay in building stones are various and depend on the physical structure of the stone, its composition and the nature of the surrounding atmosphere.

The most destructive agent to which the stone is exposed is rain or a moist atmosphere, and also, in a minor degree, wind, frost and smoke.

MAN BITTEN BY MAD DOG IS TO RETURN

John Weber Writes That He Is Recovering and Doctors Will Soon Let Him Come Home.

John Weber, the man who was bitten by a mad dog on his farm the tenth of the month and who was taken to a Pastoral Institute last Sunday for treatment, writes that he is getting along nicely and that the doctors expect soon to allow him to return home.

On the tenth of the month, but as he was not known for certain that the dog was mad, and he developed no symptoms of sickness, he was not taken to Chicago until the sixteenth.

In his letter Mr. Weber tells of some of the other patients in the hospital for treatment of the rabies. Among them are a woman and five children from Iowa, all of whom were bitten by a mad dog and were sent there at the expense of their home state.

The husband and father of this family, who was also bitten, died three days thereafter. A Marquette man who was taken there recently suffering with a very bad attack of the malady is on the road to recovery.

A MILTON GRADUATE FINDS NEW RADIUM

Dr. E. S. Ballard, born in Rock County and Educated at Milton College, Starline Medical World.
At the session of the Southern Homeopathic Medical Association in New Orleans, Dr. E. S. Ballard, a former resident of Rock County who was born in the county and educated at Milton College and who now lives in Chicago, announced the discovery of "radiothorium," declared to have all the properties of radium without its harmful effects, and to be within the reach of people of moderate means. It was described as being made from a certain species of pitchblende, of which twenty tons have been discovered near a Colorado mine, with much more in sight. Dr. Ballard declared that it generates the purple ray, the same which Planch used so successfully in the treatment of lupus.
Dr. Ballard fully explained his discovery. He recently was requested by the Chicago board of trade to make an analysis of a pitchblende obtained in Colorado. He said he found that this blende contained an element possessing many of the qualities of radium and that when this element was applied to the backs of patients suffering from locomotor ataxia and similar diseases it effected quick cures. He said he was not alone in his experiments.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF KNIGHTS OF GLOBE

Knights and Eminent Ladies of Lodge Supper in L. O. E. T. Hall Wednesday Night.
At 10 o'clock P. M. Wednesday evening Janesville Garrison of the Knights of the Globe and Eminent Ladies held their annual banquet for themselves and families.
The tables and hall which were in charge of Mrs. N. Williams were tastefully decorated with flags and bunting, the occasion being in honor of George Washington's birthday.
Under the supervision of Mrs. P. Tatter, the caterer, a most tempting supper was served at seven o'clock. After the supper an excellent program took place followed by a dinner which lasted until a late hour and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.
The banquet committee consisted of Messrs. Williams and Patton, Miss Erickson, and Messrs. Ratter, Summers and Marcus. The entertainment committee was the Misses Yates and Kapke and Messrs. J. A. Summers and D. J. Marcus.
The program was as follows: Piano Solo, Mrs. Day; Reading, Miss M. Gregg; Essay, Miss Clara Erickson; Piano Solo, Miss Clara Yates; Address, Mr. Knight McNeill; Reading, Miss M. Kapke; Essay, J. A. Summers; Address, Mr. Knight White; Address, Philip Ratter; Speech, J. F. Carle; Selection, Quartette.

"McCARTHY LAKE" DRAINED INTO SANITARY SEWER

Street Commissioner James Bennett and Force Have Partially Relieved People in Flood District.
Acting on an order from Alderman Wilbur Carle, Street Commissioner James Bennett and his force have cut a ditch from the manhole on Palm street to Ravine street, west to Blue street, and the lake pond which encircled the home of Fort McCarthy has been drained off. As a precaution to prevent the sanitary sewer from being clogged by the sand and silt in the surface water on an upright elbow of sewer pipe was attached to the manhole's six-inch outlet. Nearly all of the sediment will therefore remain in the manhole and can be removed when the over-supply of water has been carried off. The surface of "McCarthy lake" is said to have been lowered two feet by virtue of this relief measure.

25 lbs. Granulated Sugar

The very finest cane sugar manufactured in his country.

4 lbs. Plantation Coffee

Our regular 25c coffee, the kind we sell more of than all others put together.
All For $2.00 Saturday Only Feb. 27th

No, it would be hard to make an immediate profit on this kind of a deal, but if you know what our Plantation coffee was as well as you know what the best granulated sugar is, you would understand our reasons.

If we can offer an inducement strong enough to persuade you to try Plantation Coffee in a quantity sufficient to enable you not only to appreciate its richness at first but to become so accustomed to its spicy aroma that ordinary coffees will not satisfy you, then we have accomplished our end and secured a permanent coffee customer.

REMEMBER — Only one deal to each customer, and only one day, Saturday, Feb. 27.

If you already use the coffee we appreciate it, and you are very welcome to the deal.

WHEN THE CAR BROKE DOWN

The man with a constitutional horror of automobiles sat bolt upright in the middle of the back seat with a girl on each side of him. He was securely snored and there was almost as much snoring as any one could be.

"How fast are we going now?" he shouted at the man at the wheel, who owned the car and who, having insured it, was willing to trust the rest to fate.

"Now, Mr. Starboard," said the girl with the green veil, "you aren't nervous, are you? Nothing can happen, really."

The man who was afraid sniffed as he caught his cap from a dash of wind. "That may be," he remarked, "but I read of six fatal accidents in this morning's paper. One was because the chauffeur sneezed. You don't feel as though you have a sneeze coming, do you?"

"You can stop it by pressing your upper lip hard, if you do. Perhaps you'd better press it anyhow—ouch!"

The man at the wheel righted the car after it had gone over the hump in the road and shot a grim look at his friend in the back seat. "We're ten miles from even a suburban street car line," he said. "But if you'd like to get out and walk, Louie, just say the word. What the dickens!"

The car stopped after an explosion in its interior and a few gasps.

"I didn't say anything," protested the man in the back seat. "Go on."

"He can't," explained the girl with the blue veil, as she climbed out. "I can tell from the sound that this is one of the exceptional cases where after taking the whole automobile to pieces and reducing it to a heap of junk you find the trouble lies in a half-inch piece of infinitesimal wire that has moved an eighth of an inch from alignment. If I were you, Peter, I'd take an ax to it—you can demolish it quicker in that way, and you know you'll never think of the wire till you've gone through all the preliminaries!"

"There are sandwiches and cold chicken in there somewhere," said Peter from beneath his car. "For goodness' sake, find them, and so if they'll distract your attention! Is there any gentleman or lady present who can oblige me with a wrench—a monkey wrench? There's one in the toolbox! I'm sorry for the delay!"

"Oh, you needn't be sorry," protested the man who was afraid of automobiles. He had beamed cheerfully and rollickingly from the moment the car stopped. "We're very comfortable, I assure you. I'm having the pleasantest time of my whole life! Where did you say that precious cold chicken was? Well, I declare!"

"Isn't it a beautiful day!" suggested the girl with the green veil. "Just look at the autumn foliage on those trees!"

"I'd rather look at another piece of chicken," said the man who was afraid of automobiles. "Do you suppose that if I crawled under to Peter and took him a second joint he could hold it in his teeth and eat as he worked? It really doesn't seem right to leave one's neck for one's host! Peter, don't you suppose the trouble is that the carburetor is on the bias or that the clutch is muscle bound?"

A red and dusty face glared out from beneath the machine and then the girl with the blue veil realized that something must be done quickly.

"Once upon a time," she began hastily, waving a chicken bone in the air, "three persons went for an automobile ride and when they ran over humps the girl who sat all alone in the tonneau rattled around till she almost jarred her back teeth loose. So when they met a cow with green eyebrows and pink teeth she invited the cow to fill up the empty seat beside her. And the cow said—Go on, Louie!"

"I can't," protested the man, who was afraid of automobiles. "How absurd! Must I? Well—the cow said: 'This is the chance I've been looking for. When I was a small calf of six months I remember my mother telling me that a fairy would come along some day and whisk me away to a land where our ends would be favored with perpetual vanilla. So I've waited, dear, for you.' At this thrilling moment—Go on, Louie!"

The girl with the green veil took a bite from a fresh sandwich and spoke up. "At this," she said, "the happy creature kicked up her heels and ran joyously toward a red-headed boy who was approaching, intending to tell him her glad story. 'Daisy is my name,' said she. 'You don't look it,' said the boy. This so saddened the cow that she—Go on, Peter!"

There was a clug and a whir and Peter stood up dusting his hands. "All fixed!" he called. "Climb in!"

There was a scramble and in a minute they were whirling along again between rows of autumn-colored trees. "I'd rather have stayed back there," murmured the man who was afraid of automobiles, "and found out why that foolish cow went parading around with green eyebrows."

SCIENCE AND INVENTION

FOR GRAINING PAINT

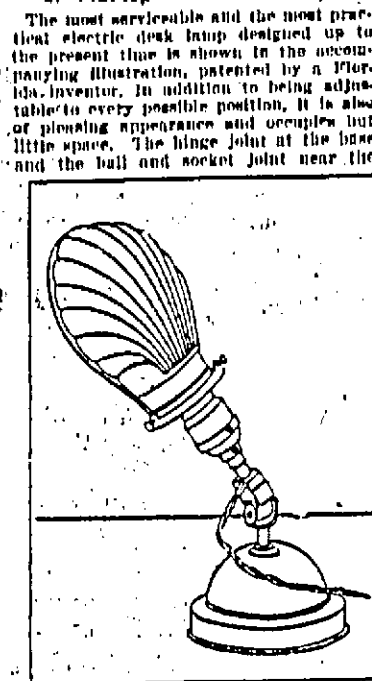

Tool Leaves Design on Freshly Coated Surface.

Hereafter it will not be necessary for a painter to learn graining and such work will probably not command such high prices as it does now. An Ohio inventor has devised a handy little tool that is designed to revolutionize this work, for it means an incalculable saving in time and the graining is done more accurately. This tool consists of a head made in the form of a quarter cylinder, a handle for

ADJUSTABLE ELECTRIC LAMP

Adaptable for Use on Either a Roll or Flat-top Desk or Library.

The most serviceable and the most practical electric desk lamp designed up to the present time is shown in the accompanying illustration, patented by a French inventor. In addition to being adjustable to every possible position, it is also of pleasing appearance and occupies but little space. The hinge joint at the base and the ball and socket joint near the shades allow the utmost freedom of adjustment for use on either a roll or flat-top desk. It is also equally adaptable for libraries or places. The portable shade with its aluminum reflecting surface diffuses and concentrates the light, relieving the strain on the eyes caused by unbalanced or poorly directed light.

years the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has been experimenting with gold leaf for this purpose as the result of the suggestion of one of its engineers and it has been found that the art thus treated is most favorable for observation under all conditions of atmosphere. Apart from this the economy of the innovation is one worthy of serious consideration. The gilding of one of these arms costs only a few cents when done in quantities, and one treatment, it is said, will last ten or twelve years and the only attention required during that time is an occasional spraying of with a solution of acetic acid. A number of these gold-leafed arms are in use on this railroad and they are to be more extensively introduced from time to time.

There was recently sent to a bronze foundry at Elmwood, N. Y., the largest single piece of this metal which has ever been accomplished in this country, and it is probably the largest ever cast in the world. This was the horse which is to form part of a statue of Phil Sheridan, to be erected at Washington. Here, therefore, it has been the custom to make pieces and then unite them by brazing. The metal was melted in a dozen large crucibles and then poured into a large shell held 6,000 pounds. This was then emptied into a feeding basin on top of the mold and the entire time taken was filled. The heavy contents were allowed to flow into the mold by withdrawing a plug which controlled the outflow. The fluid, measured 12 feet long, 9 1/2 feet high and 8 feet wide, and weighed between 20 and 25 tons before the metal was poured into it.

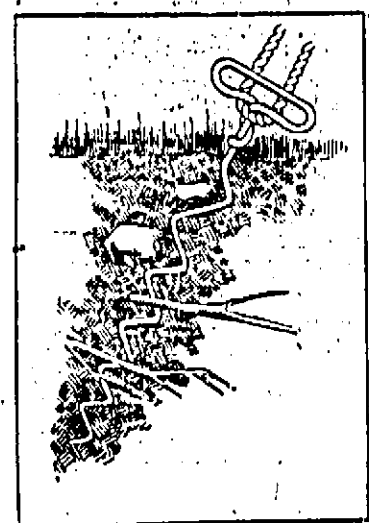

As the coal mines of the country sink deeper and deeper into the earth the cost of producing coal becomes greater and consequently more valuable. The mineowners look with envious eyes on the great amount of fuel that is within sight and yet out of their reach, by reason of the fact that it is necessary to leave pillars of coal to support the mines. Recently, the experiment has been tried at Herrington, Pa., of filling the pillars of the pillars by the use of molasses and it is said to have been done with great success where the pillars are available in sufficient quantities. This waste material of the former is flung into the excavated workings by water carried in wooden troughs which are directed to fill abandoned branches or gangways. After this filling it is usually found possible to remove the pillars of coal.

It is said that there are $1,000,000 worth of whalebone locked up in a storehouse at New Bedford, Mass. While the catch of the Arctic whalers the past season is the smallest for several years, there will be actually more whalebone in that hands than has been the case in some time. Most of the catch of last year is on hand in the storehouses in city. The stock of over 200,000 pounds of bone could be easily disposed of at a medium price, say $2.50 per pound, but with the decision of the agents not to send their vessels to the Arctic next season, and with only the comparatively small quantity to be caught by the whalers in the Southern oceans, the holders think the bone worth more money, possibly rising $5 per pound, and the market is stagnant.

USEFUL TENT PIN

Goes Through Any Kind of Soil and Holds Firm.

Any person who has ever camped out and experienced the difficulty of pitching a tent on stony or wooded ground, will appreciate the value of the tent pin invented by a Virginian. This new pin will not only penetrate any kind of soil with ease, but will stand firm under great pressure. The pin is of heavy wire and formed like a corkscrew, on the principle of which it acts. The upper end has an elongated eye, over which the guy rope slips. All that is needed in putting one of these pins in place is to screw it into the ground as you would

WORKS LIKE CORKSCREW.

There is a hole with a gimlet. Instead of returning from stones and roots of trees, it worms its way around them and the tougher the ground the harder it is to pull the pin out. Indeed, it cannot be pulled out like an ordinary stake, but must be reversed in order to be removed, making it unusually firm. As will be observed, no mallet is required to drive this sort of pin into the earth.

SCIENCE NOTES

In the constant search which is being conducted for the best method for the betterment of the service and economy of operation, a great deal of investigation has been given to the matter of painting the steel arms heated at intervals along the line and the means of which orders are sent to the engine. In the case of the steel arms, it should be visible in the case of the engine to give them a coat of paint every four years. The cost of this treatment has been estimated at $1.25 per year. THE NEW MEXICAN AMBASSADOR TO THE UNITED STATES AND THE MAN HE SUCCEEDS.

F. L. de la Barra, Mexican statesman, who succeeds Enrique Creel as ambassador from Mexico to the United States, has just left New York for Mexico, where he goes to consult the foreign officers regarding his mission to Belgium before assuming his duties in Washington. While in New York Mr. de la Barra gave out the following interview:

"The relations between Mexico and the United States must day by day become more cordial because their respective economic interests with mutual advantages require them to be so. Apart from this fact there is absolutely no political question which can divide them, due to the fact that both governments have as a basis of their international policy respect for the rights of others."

Birds as Weather Prophets.

If birds in general peck at their feathers, wash themselves and fly to their nests, expect rain. Parrots and canaries dress their feathers and are careful the evening before a storm. If the peacock cries when he goes to roost, it is a sign of rain. Long and loud singing of robins in the morning denotes rain.

NEW BOOKS ON THE
LIBRARY SHELVES

Many New Volumes Have Been Added to Collection for Use of Patrons.

A number of new and recent works of authors have now been placed on the shelves of the public library, for the use of patrons. The collection embraces a number of volumes on miscellaneous subjects together with a number of books of pure fiction. The fiction stories are in the larger number as the demand for books of that sort is greater than for other topics.
Notable among the miscellaneous are
"Historic Ghosts and Ghost Theories," a book that will be interesting to those interested in spiritualism and the "deluge of the future." Another volume is the play "The Man From Home," which was shown here recently. Helen Keller's story of "The World I Live In," is also included.
For those interested in the pioneer history of the country, "The Last of the Plainsmen," and "The Conquest of the Great Northwest," will have special attractions. For the gardener there are two books on gardening and vegetables.

In the line of fiction, some of the contributions to literature of the best imaginative writers of the day, it is now possible for the people to secure and read. The full list of the new books is as follows:

"Historic Ghosts and Ghost Theories," by Alfred. A collection of strange stories relating to famous mysteries.
United States as a World Power, by Coolidge.
"Lay of the Land, by Sharp. Fifteen brief talks on the small neighbors that share our home fields.
"American Birds, by May.
"Yard and Garden, by Baker. A book of practical information for the amateur gardener in city, town or suburb.
"Book of Vegetables and Garden Herbs, by French. A practical handbook for the vegetable gardener.
"A Little Land and a Living, by Dolton Hall.
"The Man From Home; a play by Turkington and Wilson.
"Last of the Plainsmen, by Zane Grey. The record of a hunting trip which the author took with Buffalo Janes across the Arizona desert. A fine outdoor book full of the charm of desert and canyon.
"The World I Live In, by Helen Keller.
"A Chronicle of Friendships, by Will
H. Low.
"Story of My Life, by Ellen Terry.
"Conquest of the Great Northwest, two volumes, by Agnes Lunt. The story of the great Hudson Bay company.

Fiction.
"Golden Horoscopes, by Aldrich.
"Prophecy in Babylon, by Dawson.
"Old Indian Days, by Eastman.
"Aridness Coulema, by Ellis.
"Side-Stepping with Shorty, by Sewell Ford.
"Vault of the Island, by Grimshaw.
"Spanish Jude, by Maurice Hewlett.
"Sovereign Good, by Huntington.
"Rough, by Myra Kelly.
"Revolt of Anne Royle, by Martin.
"Hunting of the Strong, by Maxon.
"Lynch's Daughter, by Murrell.
"The Footprint and Other Stories, by Morris.
"The Gentleman, by Ollivant.
"Stroke Out, by Paine.
"Trot Dwellers, by Paine.

FIRST NEWSBOY OF
THE DAILY GAZETTE

J. S. Harding Visiting in the City—
Worked for Gazette in 1857—Now Lives in South Dakota.

This morning, J. S. Harding, of Cotton, South Dakota, visited the Gazette plant in its new offices to note the changes from 1857 when he carried the first daily ever issued in Janesville. "I worked for the Gazette in 1857 when George Haddock was owner and Charles H. H. editor," said Mr. Harding, "and I carried the first daily issued on Monday, March 9, 1857. Our office was just across the Milwaukee street bridge in those days and we had to print the paper by hand-power. We boys used to work printing the paper and then fold them by hand and deliver them. I worked for the Gazette a year and then learned the milling business. I lived in Janesville until 1883 when I went to South Dakota."

Mr. Harding said that George Hud-dock, the old foreman, was a rough man who had an exquisite use of profanity on all occasions. Later he became converted, was made a Methodist minister and was killed in Sioux City in 1888 while conducting a temperance campaign in that city. His murder was never convicted.

Mr. Harding is one of many who have visited the Gazette office since it was moved to its new quarters.
The unsold condition of the offices has been the reason for no public invitation being issued to the public to inspect the plant. However it is expected that all this will be remedied by the first part of the coming week and a formal invitation will be extended to all who wish to inspect the building.

MISS AMY FURSETT
AND LEO M. DECKER

Young Couple Were United in Marriage Tuesday by Rev. J. C. Hazen at Baptist Parsonage.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
East Union, Feb. 25.—Miss Amy M.
Fursett of Cooksville and Leo M. Decker of this place, were married at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. J. C.
Hazen in Janesville, Wis., at eleven
a. m. on Tuesday, Feb. 23, 1909, returning home on the noon train. The bride is the second daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. G. Fursett of Cooksville and is a young lady much thought of. The groom is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Decker and is well known and much thought of, having lived here all his life. They were tendered a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Fursett, Wednesday evening. About fifty were in attendance, mostly relatives and few intimate friends. A four course dinner was served at 7:30, the tables being very prettily decorated with pink and white carnations. They received a large number of very beautiful and nice wedding presents. The bride's wedding dress was a very pretty light blue silk dress trimmed with white lace and her traveling suit was a light gray. The groom was attired in a suit of dark navy blue. They go to home-keeping soon on the farm of the groom's father. They both have a large circle of friends who join in extending hearty congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Decker, daughter Nellie and son Leo, expect soon to move to Evansville and make that place their future home. We are all very sorry to see them leave this neighborhood as they have lived here a number of years, but are glad they will not be very far away.

Joseph Carpenter and family will move back onto his farm the first of March and Mr. and Mrs. Lew Dixon, who live there now, will move onto a farm near Brooklyn.

A number from this way attended the sale at Curt Place's Wednesday.
Geo. Morrison and family were visitors at Leroy Robinson's Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Decker were guests at L. Decker's last Sunday.
Leroy Robinson and family transacted business in Janesville last Monday.

A number from this way attended the bazaar and dance given by the ladies of St. Paul's Catholic church at Evansville last week.

A farm of 114 acres belonging to the D. R. Stevens estate had known as the Thomas Glenvee farm was recently sold to Wm. Luchinsinger of Brooklyn for $110 per acre. Possession given about April first.

Cold and Fish.
Cold seems to have no effect on several varieties of fish. Perch will live in ponds frozen over all winter;
and the white fish of Canada have been frozen so stiff that they have been brittle enough to break, yet showed signs of life when properly thawed out.

True and False Friendship.
False friendship is like the ivy, which decays and ruins the wall it embraces; but true friendship gives new life and animation to the object it supports.—Burton.

DINNER AND PARTY
ON 90TH BIRTHDAY

Evansville Lady. Celebrated by Entertaining All Day—Received Many Beautiful Gifts.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Evansville, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Anne Faulken celebrated her ninetieth birthday yesterday by entertaining throughout the day. At twelve o'clock she gave a dinner to her relatives and in the evening was hostess to a company of neighbors and intimate friends. Mrs. Faulken was generously remembered by many, and gifts and flowers poured in upon her all day. One offering sent from her son-in-law, C. H. Harwood, and family in Milwaukee contained a cluster of thirty carnations in a variety of colors. With these came a large bunch of violets for her to wear at her birthday party. From her daughter-in-law, Mrs. P. W. Faulken of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, she received a mannath-birthday cake, the top of which was beautifully decorated and bore her name and the dates 1819 and 1909. It was further ornamented with fifty small red candles which when lighted made a brilliant display.
Mrs. Faulken was born in Devonshire, England, and came to this country with her parents when seventeen years of age and settled in New York state, where she lived until after her marriage. The young couple came to Wisconsin about sixty-one years ago, and settled on land near Beloitville.
Here they built a little log cabin and lived in true pioneer style and very interesting indeed are her narratives of early-day life in Wisconsin. She continued to live on the same farm until twenty years ago, when she came to Evansville. Mrs. Faulken is a wonderful woman for one who has so nearly reached the century mark.
She keeps house and does her own work for the most part. She retains all her faculties to a remarkable degree, being able to see and hear as readily as a woman of fifty. She enjoys the daily papers and is not only interested in local affairs, but takes a keen interest in matters of the state and nation. She received the congratulations of hosts of friends with wishes for many more bright and happy years. Her son, J.

P. Faulken, and daughter, Miss Alice Faulken, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., were here to attend the birthday celebration.

The Masonic grand lecturer of Wisconsin, Jacob Broder of Milwaukee, cent guests of Madison friends.

TO THE VOTERS OF JANESVILLE

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Mayor of this city on the Republican ticket at the primary election to be held March 23, 1909. There have been some rumors on the street that I am the candidate of the Electric Light Co. of this city. I frankly admit I have a brother, that has an interest in that corporation.
But if I had followed that brother's advice, I would not at this time, be an addressee of this city, and most emphatically would not now be a candidate for the office of Mayor. He claims that the candidate that wins at an election is the one that loses in the end. For myself I simply wish to say, that I am not a candidate in the interest of any single individual, faction, clique or corporation. That I am not under any political advice or promise of any kind, other expressed or implied. Should fortune favor me and I receive the election, I feel that I must be the Mayor in the interests of the city at large, with no string attached.
By this I do not mean I would not need counsel and advice—would be thankful for it, reserving to myself the right to discount, as best I can, and find out what part is for selfish interest and that really meant for the public good, then act accordingly.
W. F. CARLE.

NO SMUGGLING; DENY REPORTS

Fleet's Officers Say Law Has Been Obedied.

NO PROPERTY CONFISCATED

Declare They Brought No More Goods Home Than Statutes Allow—Sperry in Capital, May Give Up the Command.

Fort Monroe, Feb. 26.—Officers of the fleet, which returned from its world cruise Monday, deny reports that they have attempted to smuggle goods obtained in foreign lands into the United States. They brand as untrue statements that there has been trouble with the customs officials.

On the contrary, it was said, the commanding officers are co-operating with the customs officials and facilitating the inspection in every way. The customs people, the officers say, are courteous and considerate in their work and are more than willing to do the right thing in accordance with the law.

Everybody on board is, according to the law, allowed to bring in free foreign purchases aggregating not more than $100. Probably a dozen officers on each ship have exceeded this and practically none of the men. The officers generally consider it unfortunate that they must pay duty on necessary articles of clothing and souvenirs and gifts for their families purchased while on duty abroad during a long cruise, but recognize no alternative under the law. They do not blame the inspectors who are only doing their duty under orders. No large purchases, it is stated, are involved.

Customs officials boarded the ships of the fleet and collected a considerable sum of money from those officers who had made purchases abroad in excess of the $100 worth admitted free.

Think Sperry Will Go.
When Rear Admiral Charles S. Sperry, who brought the American "battle fleet" from San Francisco to Hampton Roads, left yesterday for Washington, the ship's carpenter on board the flagship Connecticut began to box up the admiral's belongings. The impression grows in the fleet that Admiral Sperry soon will haul down his flag. It is common gossip in the fleet that President Roosevelt intends to name the next commander-in-chief of the fleet before he retires from office next Thursday.

Admiral Sperry would have little to gain from continuing in the command at this time, for the ships are due to remain at the navy yards whence they soon will be distributed, until May 17. They will then rendezvous here to remain probably until July 1, before proceeding to the northern drill ground off Cape Cod for record target practice in still water. Admiral Sperry retires in September, so there is little in the program of the next few months that would cause him to wish to remain. Undoubtedly the admiral's personal wishes will have great weight with the president and the navy department.

Storm in "Roads" Abates.

The storms which met the fleet at the Virginia capes with a most untimely welcome home, seem to have abated. From the southwest to the eastward around early yesterday in temperature. The water continued exceedingly rough and serious damage was done to many of the ship's launches. Nearly a score of the little craft, disabled during the night, were tied up at the Old Point dock for repairs. A number of the boats broke apart during the night and were rescued with the greatest difficulty.

REPORTS OF DISASTERS TO PARTIAL

On board the battleships were rifles, but all reportedly proved to be unfounded. One report had seven men and two officers drowned. It spread far and wide throughout the country and many anxious telegrams of inquiry were received.

BODY FOUND; MURDER FEARED.

Hole in Head of Corpse of Man in Canton (Ill.) Cemetery.

Canton, Ill., Feb. 26.—The body of an unidentified man, 60 or 65 years old, was found in a ravine in the cemetery here last night. The corpse was well dressed in a blue suit, black overcoat and brown cap. There was a hole in the head over the right ear, like a bullet wound, but no weapon was found. The man had evidently been dead several weeks and the posture of the body seems to indicate that death occurred elsewhere and that the body was later placed where found. Murder is suspected and the coroner is investigating.

Ban on the "Rough Riders."

Washington, Feb. 26.—No "frank" features, such as cowboys throwing lassoes, wild animals and various incandescent devices, will mark the inaugural parade in Washington next Thursday. Gen. J. Franklin Bell, grand marshal of the parade, advised today that all organizations of whatsoever kind will have to conform to the dignity of the occasion.

Another Grand Duke is Ill.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 26.—A telegram received at the palace here from Czar Nicholas says Grand Duke Michael Nikolaevich, grand uncle of Emperor Nicholas, and honorary president of the Council of the Empire, is seriously ill. Feared are continued for his recovery.

Temperance Advisable.

ENDS LIFE IN FEAR OF "WHITE SLAVERS".

Indiana Girl Commits Suicide in Terror of Being Sent to French Lick.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—In probing the Ella Gingles, Wellington hotel mystery evidence that there is in this city a clearing house for "white slavers" who send girls to French Lick Springs, Ind., was obtained today.

One young girl, lured from a country home in Ellettsville, Ind., to the alleged clearing house is in a suicide's grave. She was a prisoner in a house in Dearborn street, but escaped and went to the county hospital. For six weeks she was a patient there, raving of her fears of being sent to the Indiana resort. Shortly after being discharged she learned that the man who had come to the city to marry had scorned her. Twelve days ago she ended her life in a lodging house at 126 Loomis street.

The girl was Pauline Miller, 18 years old. Her story was obtained by Attorney Patrick H. O'Donnell, in investigating the story of Miss Gingles. The attorney is preparing to furnish State's Attorney Wayman with evidence which will, he hopes, result in a general raid on various hotels and South side resorts.

Attorney O'Donnell has obtained evidence of the traffic in Chicago and has a list of young women who are said to have been lured to the resort on the pretense that they would get good positions.

Miss Miller's story was told to Miss Dierckx, connected with the Moody Institute, and Miss Frances Hagen, nurse at the county hospital. She pleaded with them to protect her from the French Lick Springs resort's agents, informing them that a companion in the Dearborn street place had told her about it.

"Miss Miller, as I understand it, married a man named Walsh," said Miss Hagen. "She was despondent, however, and reportedly asserted that she had been deserted by friends. She often spoke of her experiences and shuddered every time she mentioned the girl from French Lick Springs."

SEND OUT WARNINGS OF FLOOD.

Danger on Ohio and Other Rivers Told in Government Message.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Flood warnings were issued by the weather bureau last night for the Ohio river from Parkersburg to Cairo, for the Mississippi river from Cairo to Helena, Ark., and for the lower Tennessee and lower Cumberland rivers. Fifty-five feet of water is expected at Cincinnati today, with possibly five feet more to come, and 42 feet at Evansville by Tuesday of next week. A flood stage of 42 feet is indicated at Helena by the middle of next week and 39 feet at Memphis in about ten days.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 26.—That the Ohio river here will reach a stage of 60 feet on the present rise was the prediction made yesterday by Local Weather Forecaster Danner. If this stage is reached it will inundate considerable property on the river front and cause considerable damage. Already water and front streets are flooded and about 300 residences in low lying lands in Covington, Newport and Bellevue, Ky., are submerged.

AUSTRIA PREPARES FOR WAR.

Concentrates War Vessels and Sends Bridge Material to Army.

Vienna, Feb. 26.—Austrian troops can occupy Belgrade, the Serbian capital, within five hours after a declaration of war, say leading Austrian generals. Military sufficient to build four military bridges across the Danube has been sent to Soulin, across the river from Belgrade.

The Serbian talk of blocking the Austrians by dynamiting the present bridges is laughed at in Vienna. War vessels have been concentrated at Monaca.

Berlin, Feb. 26.—Great Britain, it is understood here, has expressed readiness to associate herself in joint action at the powers at Belgrade, provided Russia participates in this action. According to the information of the German government, France is now sending Russia a credential and friendly way with regard to the acceptance of the suggestion made by Germany that representations should be made to Belgrade and not Vienna.

Kelly Defeats Joe Thomas.

Chicago Defeated Joe Thomas of San Francisco in five rounds before the Fairmont Athletic club last night. The referee stopped the fight when Thomas was helpless. The men are middleweights and the winner is expected to meet Stanley Ketchell, the middleweight champion. In the fourth round Kelly knocked Thomas down three times.

To Raise Cigarette Prices.

New York, Feb. 26.—As the result of conferences by prominent cigarette dealers throughout the country the price of cigarettes, it is stated, is about to be raised. Dealers, it is said, have found that there was no money in the cigarette trade at the present price. Cigarette dealers have agreed to restore all cut-price brands to the standard figures.

THE LAST VOYAGE OF THE DONNA ISABEL

BY RANDALL PARRISH ILLUSTRATIONS BY DEARBORN MELVILLE

"If your mission is in regard to the Sanchez affair, senior," I returned somewhat coldly, "privacy is hardly necessary. The preliminary details can all be arranged here."

He gazed at me in surprise, rubbing his hands together swiftly. "The Sanchez affair! I know not as to that, senior. The matter on which I am not for other ears. 'Tis because of what I would communicate that I seek private audience."

I remained motionless, looking straight at him, my teeth clenched on my cigar, my mind busy with expedients. If his call had nothing whatever to do with my quarrel with Sanchez, it must be an arrest. Yet why was the fellow so mysterious? What did he require of me in private audience? Ah! a byline, probably—he desired to learn first what amount I would give for an opportunity to escape. I arose to my feet, the whole affair settled within my own mind, and cool enough to take advantage of every opening thus presented.

"Very well, senior; lead the way and I will follow."

"Rueño!" He laid one hand upon my shoulder, his eyes darkening with delight. "You have the courage, senior, the audacity of the brave soul. 'Tis in the face, the eye, and gives me hope of my mission already. We will go by the outside stairway, so as to be unobserved by those within."

I followed him silently up the steep iron stairs, along the narrow, dimly-lighted hall, and paused finally outside a door. He raised politely aside while I entered. A moment he lingered outside, peering suspiciously up and down the deserted hallway, and, stepping within, closed and bolted the door, even carefully lowering the lights before turning up the gas flames. He hastily crossed the room, shut down the single window, and drew closer the heavy shade. I watched these evidences of excessive caution with considerable amusement—this deliberate bribery of the Valparaiso secret police was considered a most serious affair. A table occupied the center of the room, and with a wave of his rather fat hand my mysterious companion invited me to occupy a chair beside it. The perplexity exhibited by his troubled face caused me to smile again.

"So, senior, to you it was all fun," he said, gravely, gesticulating with vigor. "But I appreciate the danger, the peril of discovery. Everywhere lurk the spies, and what I have to say is not for other ears. Senior, I have addressed you as the Senior West, for so I was bidden; but the man I really seek is not in truth of any such name. His voice sinking to the merest whisper, as he leaned impressively toward me across the table. "It is Senior Estaban."

I crossed my legs in apparently careless indifference, my fingers resting on the butt of the revolver in my pocket, undisturbed yet whether this was to be war or peace, but prepared for a bold play in either case.

"I am Jack Stephens; so you may proceed, senior."

"Ah! 'Tis as I was told!" his face brightening instantly, his hands flashing within an inside pocket of his coat. "This card—see! It is written in the English—it will tell you if I am trusted, if I be all right. You know the handwriting, senior, the man who wrote it?"

I accepted the bit of pasteboard curiously. It was the business card of a well-known sugar firm, and I ran my eyes hastily over the fewer lines of type on the back: "Bourier is all he represents himself to be; you may do business with him safely;—G. P. L." I glanced upward at the anxious face of the man opposite; he was evidently thrilled with excitement.

"You know him, senior? You know the handwriting? You believe him? What is he says? I read not the English."

"Yes; we are acquainted. He is George Loring, a friend of mine. He says to you what you represent yourself to be, and that I may transact business with you in perfect safety. Now, then, what are you—an agent of?"

CONGRESSMEN CHEER THREAT ON JAPANESE

Hayes of California Says Time Is Near
When State Will Banish
Orientals.

Washington, Feb. 26.—"California will not only clean out the Chinese and Japanese, but all other Orientals in the category."

This threatening remark by Congressman Hayes of California was cheered in the house yesterday, indicating that the drift of sentiment is for an exclusion act. Representative Hayes was speaking on the sundry civil bill which he turned on the Japanese invasion of his state.

"The race problem in California has not reached a state of mob violence," said Mr. Hayes, "but it must come. When men are hungry I look for trouble."

"There are 22,000 idle white men in San Francisco, and yet in my district there are 10,000 Japanese and nearly all of them employed. I believe I represent the view of 95 per cent. of the people of California in asking that congress protect us from this menace and aid in preserving the lands of the Pacific coast for the Caucasian race. There is an immediate and pressing necessity to stop the influx of Orientals."

Mr. Hayes' remarks were greeted with applause by the Democrats. Representative Champ Clark (Mo.) expressed his approval of the exclusion of Japanese and Chinese, which he said, is advocated not only by organized labor, but by all labor.

"I have been a laboring man all my life," said Mr. Clark. "I started out as a farm hand on a farm, and I am against this immigration. The Caucasian race has always been the dominant race, as now, and will be as long as there are any of us left."

Representative Harrison (N. Y.), speaking in favor of Oriental exclusion, said that he would vote for Japanese exclusion if he continues as a member of the foreign affairs committee. Representative Stephens (Pa.) declared that the servant problem in this country would be solved by the admission of Orientals, claiming that 500,000 Orientals for domestic service would not displace the American servant.

Three More Counties Dry.
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 26.—In three more counties of Indiana the voters yesterday expressed by large majorities their disapproval of licensed saloons, and as a result 53 of these places in the three counties will be closed. Hamilton, Fountain and Payson counties were the three. Gibson and Carroll counties are voting to close, and it is expected that these counties will go "dry" by big majorities.

Kill Referendum Bill.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 26.—The house killed the initiative and referendum bill yesterday. The judiciary committee reported the bill for indefinite postponement.

LEFT ON HER DOORSTEP FOR THIS MOTHER

Mrs. A. G. Tuson, of Livermore, Cal., writes: "I picked up from my doorstep one day a little book in which I soon became a very much interested. My little girl of five years of age had been troubled for a long time with loss of appetite, extreme nervousness and undue fatigues. She was all run down and in a very delicate condition. This little book was very comprehensively written, and told of the new method of extracting the medicinal elements of the cod's liver oil which is so hard for children to take."

"Just the thing," said I, "for my little daughter, and I immediately went for a bottle of Vinol. It helped her wonderfully. She has gained rapidly in flesh and strength, and she does not take cold half so easily."

"I am extremely grateful for the good it has done her, and I hope other mothers who have weak, delicate or ailing children will be benefited by my experience and just give Vinol a trial."
